DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse in the reply filed on 8/18/2004 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the applicant believes that the search for Species A-D and examination of entire application could be made without serious burden. The examiner traverses because the searches between each of the invention of Species A-D would be non coextensive, thus being a burden to the examiner.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 1-22 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected with traverse, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 8/18/2004.

Specification

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.
4. Following title is suggested: A METHOD TO GENERATE ELECTRICAL CURRENT USING A PLURALITY OF WEIGHTED MASSES.
5. Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

6. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is not drawn to the claimed invention, i.e. method. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 23-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as failing to set forth the subject matter which applicant(s) regard as their invention.

In claim 23, the phrase of "the masses" (line 3) is unclear as to which masses, i. e. "weighted masses" (line 2), or "plurality of masses" (line 4), are previously being referred to. The same problem occurs in claim 35.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claims 23-25, 28 and 35-36 as best understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smith et al (US 5,311,095).

As applied to claim 23 and 35, Smith et al further disclose a method to generate electrical current using a plurality of weighted masses formed in a multiple layer piezoceramic material, comprising: separating the piezoceramic material (30, Fig. 3) into a plurality of masses connectably joined to a plurality of mass support (20); electrically bonding (10) the mass supports to a flexible, conductive sheath (read as Via hole from transducer (60A) through conductive layer 81, 82); removing material from the masses to operably limit a mass vibration deflection (see column 5, line 43-54), inducing a vibration of the masses: and withdrawing an electrical current (inherency) from the conductive sheath operably generated by vibration of the masses (see column 6, lines 1-65+).

As applied to claims 24, 25 and 36, Smith et al disclose attaching the conductive sheath to a vibrating body: and conforming the conductive sheath to the vibrating body (see Fig. 3).

As applied to claim 28, Smith et al disclose varying a quantity of the masses to operably vary the electrical current withdrawn (see column 6, lines 1-24).

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 26, 27, 29-34 and 37 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Tai Van Nguyen whose telephone number is 703-308-1791. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (7:30 A.M - 4:30 P.M).
